lestone

Robed in the rich red and gold hues of fall blanketed in the silent whiteness of winter's snaw vibrant and alive in the green of spring — Eastern's many faces are familiar and dear to us. During the four years we have spent in our campus hame, we have come to love every walkway, building and scene which surrounds us — each smile which greets us with a friendly "hello". This book contains only a few of the memories which go with us as we leave - yet many and precious are the memories in our hearts. As the tower clock chimes the last minutes, we bid farewell to all we love at Eastern and turn to leave — as graduates. We step through the doorway to our futures with mingled regret and joy - regret that we must leave our friends and classmates, and joy that we will forever be a part of Eastern, and Eastern a part of each of us.

THE 1957 MILESTONE

TOURSEND 12 "// E'/1 M50

A genial, affable personality and o sympathetic noture make Victor E. Venettozzi one of the most estimable professors of the campus. His exemplary leadership, expressed through club advisory activities, continues to be of memorable value to those who work under him. The Omicron Alpha Kappa fraternity, the Student Council, and the Young Republicons' Club are organizations which he has effectively guided, with also a four-year sponsorship of the 1956-57 graduating class. His popular designation, "Mr. V.", is illustrative of the camaraderie included in his students' regard for him.

Because of his thoughtfulness and endeavors on its behalf, the senior closs finds both pleasure and pride in presenting Victor E. Venettozzi with the 1957 Milestone dedication. May it herein express its gratitude and affection.

DEDICATION

Pennsylvanian by birth, Mr. Venettozzi came to Kentucky as a transferee from Pennsylvania State University. His three and a holf years' studies at Eastern led him to an A.B. degree in English and an M.A. degree in Education. While pursuing a sincere interest in the teaching profession, he has integrated guidance and counseling with giving formal instruction

Expressive of his versatility, the leisure-time activity which gives him greatest pleasure is woodworking. The ones most dear to him ore his tolented wife, Vasile, and his intelligent, delightful daughter, Louise, not yet three years old.

Eostern's open doors beckon us to follow her paths to knowledge—to hoppiness—to a way of life. Many and varied are the doors we may enter during our sojourn here—as are the experiences which await us. The rapid succession of our ensuing college days are crowded with events which will always be within the doors of our memory . . .

The rainy doys at Eastern seem sometimes to out-number the fair ones—but rain fails to dampen our spirits as much as our feet. The warm friendliness of the grille in the marning—bright classrooms, and the happy noise of busy students—watching a television program or jaining a card game in the next suite during a free period—club meetings, evenings in the library, a date for the campus movie or ball game . . . and as the still-wet day cames to an end, the softened lights along the campus drive glow a misty "good night", to the accompaniment of the tower chimes . . .

The doors open and close briskly on a cold, clear winter day. Though the bright sky mokes the outdoors seem inviting, your fingertips tingle when you enter a warm building. Chatting over a hot cup of coffee with a professor or friends — singing around the piano in the Student Union — a crackling log fire in the lobby — a concert or play in the auditorium — with so much warmth and friendliness indoors, the harsh, cold winds lose some of their sting. From inside, the winter scene gives a feeling of security and contentment . . .

Doors are opened wide to the cool breezes of early spring — the smell of wet earth, rain, and budding shrubbery choses any traces of the winter's chill and gloom. Sunshine streams in clossroom windows — shouts and clanking swings echo from the playground — singing, laughing people crowd the Student Union steps — convertibles fold their tops down for the "new look" — lazy afternoons at Boonesboro beckon — all so much a part of this life we love — of Eastern.

Now we are groduating. Senior activities keep our days busy and filled. There is little time for sadness at the prospect of leaving — this is what we have worked for these four years. Our freshman days seem dimmed by time and distance — the present passing too ropidly. We receive our degrees and turn from Eastern to the future for which she has so thoroughly prepared us, tucking these last moments away for remembrance as we step through the open door into the sunshine . . .

The ending of summer brings only a moment of regret-anticipation of our last year at Eastern sweeps us up in the rush of returning friends, and the many new faces around us. Freshmen find little time for thoughts of home as activities surround them, and friendships are begun which will last through college and beyond. Those to whom Eastern is already home can hardly wait to catch up on all that has happened since last we saw each other, and before we know it, classes begin. New subjects, new teachers—a new year holds its promise brightly before us. The first football game-hayrides on the first cold nights-an evening of goblins and gayety on Hallowe'en-assignments that take us to the library, and afterwards to the grille for a cup of coffee—all spell Eastern. Before we know it, Hamecoming is only a week away. The frenzied preparation-floats, pep rallys, decorating, and hard work-result in a never-to-be-forgotten day.

FALL

Once again the campus at Eastern is a beehive of activity. Freshmen girls and bays taking a first glance at their new hame, long for a moment for the familiarity af their awn hames. Saan this is fargatten in the bustle of meeting new raammates and giving their raams a callegiate air.

BEGINNING A NEW YEAR

No sooner is the last suitcase stowed away than the newcomer finds himself with hordly a moment to spare. Pajama parties, get acquainted teas, freshman talent show, friendly, helpful talks trom the deans, and even long hours spent taking classification tests bind the Freshmen into one big happy family.

We know the daily life at Eastern is once again in full swing as we look toward the steps of the Student Union Building. Occasionally we have time for a friendly chat between classes and maybe even a cake before the whistle blows. One of the first things we must do is get acquainted with the library. With research papers, book reports, and many other assignments we will need to know our library. Our life, however, is not all work. We spend part of our leisure time by participating in the activities of some of the many clubs on our campus.

Mary Alice Gash helps Mary Lou Wotts, as well as ather transfer students and freshmen, to use the library.

BACK TO WORK AND PLAY

BOARD OF REGENTS

The Board of Regents is the governing body of the college. The Chairman of the Board is the State Superintendent of Public Instruction. The other four members are appointed by the Governor for four-year terms. Eastern has been fortunate throughout its history in having copable men of vision who have worked for its advancement.

J. Dorland Coates is the principal of Model High School. A very busy man, he co-ordinates the program of student teaching on the compus, and instructs the "observation" course for all future secondary teachers.

SECONDARY EDUCATION

Eastern's Troining School is fortunate in having excellent critic teachers, under whose supervision the student teachers work for twelve weeks. This experience is the most valuable phase of a prospective teacher's education—not only in the classroom, but in working with the various extra-curricular activities corried out by the high school students.

Henry G. Martin is the principal of the elementary Training School. Always available to help solve a problem ar talk with any of the critic ar student teachers, he is also a friend to each of the children who attend the Training School.

ELEMENTARY EDUCATION

Many students at Eastern plan to be elementary teachers, and warking with the younger children can be an education in itself. The first six grades are included in the Training School, and the rural demonstration school is also associated with the college. Student teachers, who work the entire semester in their practice teaching under one of these seven excellent critic teachers, feel that nat only is this experience the most valuable of their entire college career, but certainly the one that they have enjoyed the most.

Mamie W. Scott is the teacher of the rural school, known to all os the Little Red School House. A busy waman indeed, Mrs. Scott has children from Madison County in all six grade levels, and will gladly tell you that she wouldn't trade her work for anyone's.

Janet Murbach directs the Foreign Language Department. In Dr. Murbach's classes, the student not only learns the language, but the customs and history of the native people of a country. Her courses in Spanish and French will instill in anyone the desire to travel.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE

Though some courses in a foreign lauguage are necessary for all English majors, many students study a language for the pleasure they derive from it. Sigma Lambda is the organization of the Foreign Language Department.

Sigma Lambda's membership is selective but automatic. Any student in an advanced course of Foreign Language with an average of B or more in previous Foreign Language courses is eligible. The purpose of the club is to bring together students with a common interest in foreign languages and literatures. A major activity of the club is the study of the United Nations.

The Yaung Republicans Club hold their meeting.

A big event this foll was the mock election. For weeks the political parties on our campus hod been holding rallies. Then come the big day, Election Day. The cry of "Go to the Grill and vote!" or "Have you voted yet?" could be heard. Before every national or state election the students hold a mock election which is sponsored by the World Affairs Club. This is to get the students familiar with the voting process of our state and our national government.

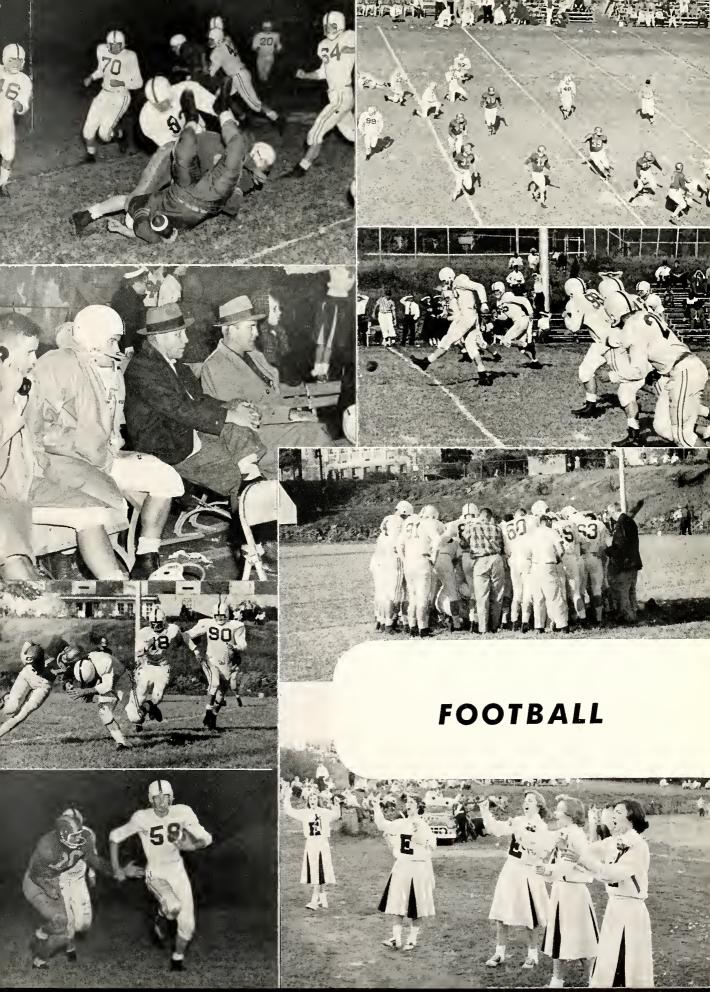

LET'S GO

Glenn Presnell, farmer All-American and professional grid star, is in his third year as head football coach of the Eastern Kentucky Maraons. Two years ago, in his initial season as head coach af the Maroons, Presnell guided the Eastern Kentuckians to their most successful football season in history, their first Ohia Valley Conference Champianship ond a trip to the Tongerine Bawl. Fred Darling has been line coach at Eastern since 1947. He played three years af football here, where he was chosen on the Little American team. Assisting Presnell with the backfield was Horace Harper, who had to give up football after a chest injury last fall.

THE COACHES

The values and cultural aspects of football are essential in that they provide and enlarge opportunities and varied social situations which are conducive to developing initiative, leadership, self-control, courage, loyalty, fair-play, sportsmanship, courtesy, obedience to rules and officials, as well as providing fun and recreation. These pleasurable experiences can best be exemplified by the motto of the Olympic Games: "the essential thing is not winning, but having taken part; the important thing is having played well".

CAPTAIN

Jerry Boyd, senior center from Uniontawn, Pa., a four letterman who gained mention on ane of the Little All-American grid squads last fall, was voted captain of the 1956 Marcons. A great leader wha was a starter an Eostern's 1954 Tangerine Bowl team, Jerry gained an outstanding reputation around the Ohio Valley Conference for his crisp blocking and vicious tackling.

VALUABLE PLAYERS

MOST VALUABLE LINEMAN

Sal Marchese, a nome that will be heard many times during the next two seasons, was voted the most valuable lineman by his teammates. Sal is a great lover af the game and, already, he is a feared man by Eastern appanents. He should be a shap-in far all-conference honors next year.

MOST VALUABLE BACK

Gary Jump, courageous saphomore halfback from Erlanger, Ky., began the season as the number three left half, but before the season was very old, he fought his way ta a starting berth and was outstanding for the Maroons. The third leoding ball carrier, Jump averaged seven yards a carry with the leather. He was tied for secand place in scaring with 18 points. A lat can be expected fram this scatback who loves the game. His teammates had enaugh confidence in him to name him the most valuable back.

THE SEASON

Although the 1956 Maroon gridders were, statistically, a far better club than the 1955 team, they finished with a season record of four wins and five losses, all the setbacks coming by between one and eight points.

With twenty-plus lettermen back from the '55 team, Coach Glenn Presnell's many followers were making reservations for a New Year's trip to Orlando, Florida, and a return trip to the Tangerine Bowl. These followers, however, were not expecting the Maroons' opponents to have strong clubs, many of which had the strongest in their history.

September 15 saw the Maroons in Taledo, Chio, where they nipped an inspired Taledo Rocket eleven 12 to 6. Jerry Wilhoit, sophomore flankman, who replaced the injured Tom Schulte, tallied on a 15 yard aerial from Ronnie Polly, and John Sebest snagged Polly's second touchdown pass from 12 yards out for the Maroons' scoring.

On september 29 the Murray Thoroughbreds invaded Hanger Stadium with one of their best ball clubs and eked by a scrapping Eastern by 14 to 7. Eastern's only touchdown came on a quarterback sneak by Jack Rodgers from one yard out.

SENIORS

Bobby Thompson, senior halfback from Charlotte, North Carolino, wound up his career, which this year was morred by injuries, by turning in several good performances for the Maroons. A fine broken field runner, Thompson had a world of football potential.

Eastern then jaurneyed to Middle Tennessee on October 6 to suffer their second straight defeat at the hands of the Blue Raiders. The Raiders' effective running attack was aided by a sparkling passing attack which defeated the Maraans 26 to 19. Eastern's touchdowns came on a two-yard plunge by John Sebest, a fumble return of 68 yards by Dave Bishap and a six-yard run again by John Sebest.

Eastern's "hot and cold" Maroons again ran cold in losing a close 13-12 Dad's Night game to East Tennessee State at Hanger Stadium. Eastern's scaring came on a three-yard keep-it play and a quarterback sneak by Ronnie Polly.

At Charleston, West Virginia, on October 27 Eastern finally got hot and beat Morris Harvey in a close one 13-6. The Maroons' touchdowns came on a five-yard run by Gary Jump and on a drive of 99 yards which took 23 plays, with "Red" Hortman going over from one yard out to give Eastern their second win of the season.

Eastern's Hamecoming crowd was delighted a week later, on November 3, when the Maraons stapped the powerful Tennessee Tech Golden Eagles 25-13. Thomas, Wilhoit, Conley and Jump did the scoring for the big "E".

Don Hartman, the younger af the Hortman brathers, was a four-year letterman for the Maroons. Playing bath the end and tockle pasitians, Hortman handled some of the extra point kicking duties and finished a fine grid career with the gridders af Glen Presnell. Dan hails from Daytan, Ohio.

Bob Tishue, twa-year letterman fram Uniantawn, Pa., performed capably at his tackle position for the Maroans. A hard warker, Bab graduated in May.

Dovid Bishop makes o first down for Eastern with the help of fullback Bob Collohon in o hard-fought game.

The Eastern Maroons, very impressive in their last two outings, evened up their season record against the Marehead Eagles 19-0 in the annual battle for the "Old Hawg Rifle". The Maroons' touchdowns came on running plays by Jump, Bass, and Callahan with Paul Thomas converting.

Eastern closed its season against the Louisville Cardinals in a hard-faught contest, anly to lose out 14-6. Eastern's only scare came on a 30-yard pass play by quarterback Jack Rodgers.

The highlight of fall is that great day "Homecoming." This of course requires lots of preparation. Everyone is busily engaged in making floats for the parade. A big bon-fire and pep rally is held on the football field to start things rolling. The pep rally soon develops into a snake dance through town. Thus with the dance, seeing old friends, and decorating the campus, excitement and school spirit run high.

GETTING READY FOR HOMECOMING

Through the library, through the grill, through the dorms, the Snake Dance winds its way across campus.

THE BIG DAY

With the dawn of a beautiful day we see many hurrying and scurrying to make last-minute preparations. The many floats, bands, R.O.T.C. corps and pretty girls make up the successful porode. The judges find it hard to pick a winning float. They ore chosen for their originality and beouty.

Students, alumni, and friends gather in the stadium for the main events of the afternaon. These include the game and the crawning of the queen. The band and majorettes provide us with entertainment at half time. All this plus Eastern's victory over the University of Louisville adds up to an unforge!tably perfect day.

As the days grow shorter, and icy winds whistle around corners of the buildings, the tempo of campus activities increases in a seeming effort to conquer the dreary weather. The interval between the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays is filled with church and social affairs—the traditional programs at Eastern usher in the Christmas season—and we anticipate the time we will spend with our families. The New Year resumes the now-accustomed routine of classes, basketball games, and occasional welcome relaxation. The refreshing sight of snow enlivens the campus as nothing else can—and winter seems a favorite season in the brilliance of its frosty whiteness.

WINTER

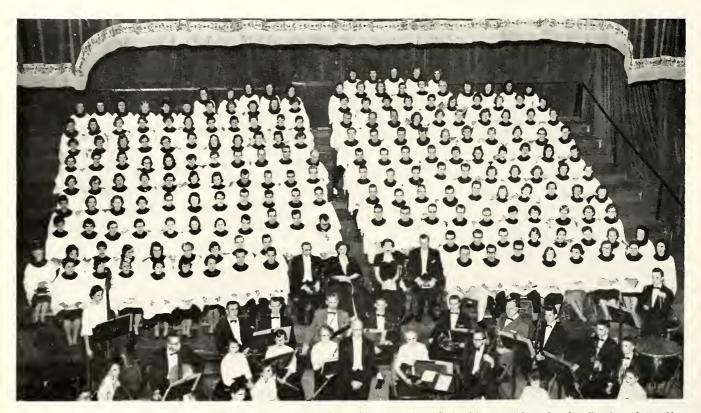

Christmas on Eastern's campus is always something to be remembered. It is a beautiful sight to see all the greens go up to decorate the lobby of the Student Union Building. The Hanging of the Greens is sponsored by the YM-YWCA. Another annual tradition is the Messiah presented by the music department. Both students and townspeople participate in the chorus.

Margaret Hall playing the trumpet, Harriet Harris ond Nellie Mike carrying evergreen wreaths begin the pracession of girls at the Hanging of the Greens.

YULETIDE SPIRIT

The 25th presentation of Handel's Messiah under the direction of Mr. Van Peursem was given in Brock Auditorium on December 9, 1956.

PAUL S. McBRAYER Head Caach

COACHES

Since 1946, when Paul McBrayer came to coach the Maroon basketball team, Eastern has made a steady climb from nowhere to national prominence in the realm of basketball. By 1949 McBrayer had built Eastern's team to the point where it entered the select group classified by the N.C.A.A. as "major" college basketball.

Coach McBrayer is nationally known as a master-strategist, a strict disciplinarian, a basketball fundamentalist with limitless knowledge of the game. Born in Lawrenceburg, Kentucky, McBrayer entered the University at the age of 16 and still ranks with their all-time greats in basketball. He starred on the baseball diamond, too, and received some attractive offers from the major leagues, but turned them down to stick to his first love—basketball.

After graduation he coached at Kavanaugh High School in Lawrenceburg before returning to U. of K. to assist in basketball. He remained there for nine years, until called into the service. After two and a half years in the army, McBrayer came to Eastern in 1946.

THE SEASON

With an inexperienced, sophomore-studded squad in a rebuilding year, Coach Paul McBrayer's Maroons opened the season with the University of Louisville, the nation's Number 1-ranking team. With a starting five made up of Clayton Stivers, Carl Wright, Bill Florence, Jim Kiser and Larry Wood, a quintet that had proven very effective in spring practice and during the fall workouts, they did everything well except that all-important thing of getting their shots to fall. However, this game gave fans an indication of what was to be expected of the Maroons this season.

In the second game against the University of Alabama, the Maroons out-scored in field gaals but were defeated at the foul line. Back home for their third game, the Maroans, led in scoring by Moore and Wood, defeated Evans-ville College. The Maroons took to the road again for the game with North Carolina State. This completed play until January 5, 1957, when the Maraans journeyed to Tennessee, winning from Tennessee Tech and Middle Tennessee, bath clase, hard-faught games.

Following in rapid succession, the Maroons met and were defeated by Western, their arch rival. On the road for the next three games, Eastern lost her return game with Louisville; Cincinnati topped the Maroons in a close game, and the following night the Dayton club defeated the Eastern quintet.

Back home again, Murray was defeated by the Maraans. The next game, Evansville, was lost by the Maraons on the free-throw line. On their home flaor again, Eastern defeated the Quantico Marines in an overtime game.

Hosts to Western in their next game, the Maroons held a brilliant half-time lead, but lost again on free throws. Toledo, in the next game, offered little competition to the Maroons, the play being dominated by Moore and Wood. In their next game, with Tennessee Tech, the Maroons again walked away with the score.

DALE MOORE Farward

RAY VENCILL Guard

Eastern returned home on February 18 to play Middle Tennessee. Leading at the end of the first half, the Maroons lost by only five points as the Raiders shot 63 times from the free-throw line. In Winston-Salem, Wake Forest defeated the Maraons in a shooting spree that took its toll.

Back at Richmond, the Maroons lost to Morehead in a last-half set-back. Traveling to Morehead for the next game, the Maroans again faced disaster from the foul line. The next game, with Miami University of Ohio, played in Louisville, was one of the hardest-fought games of the season, the Maroons losing by one point in an overtime. In their final game at Murray, the strenuous season had apparently taken its tall. The Eastern five lost, but were outscored by only one field goal.

In the final analysis, this squad of ten sophomores and two juniors showed great heart in weathering its discouragements, and the personnel seemed optimistic and filled with bright hopes for the future.

An enthusiastic crawd at a ball game.

The first robin perched on a bare tree limb-brave green grass-blades peeping from the brown earththe sudden changes from showers to sunshine give us a hint of approaching spring. Shadows are shorter in the afternoon- the sunsets paint the sky in beautiful colors-the first couples are seen strolling in the ravine. The tennis courts are full—the potio doors swing open - sun-lovers become colorfully evident, and new life seems to have revived us as well as the campus. The pace quickens as the school year grows near its end-the Military Ball and the Senior Prom are highlights of the social calendar—traditional Easter services are beautiful and inspiring—Honors Days, banquets, and initiations culminate achievements made during the year. Eastern becomes more and more dear to us as we come closer to leaving. We can wish no more than that those who follow may know and love her in her various seasonschanging, yet never changing - always Easternour Eastern.

LIFE IN THE DORMS

College wouldn't be the same without its dorm life. Living with others is not only a lot of fun but you also learn to give and take in order to get along well. We study, talk, play cards, and have a very merry time. It's truly our hame away from home.

IN THE VILLAGE

Sandy and Bobby Harville drap in on good friends Jayce and Cotton Robinson far an evening af card-playing and chatter.

Babby and Janet Thampsan crom for those mid-semester tests.

Many of Eastern's married students live in the campus housing provision, Vet's Village. Quarters here are usually crowded but no one seems to mind because everyone shares the same problems and these seem to knit the project into a friendly, sharing, atmosphere. The "village" includes not only the little white rows of houses but also the trailer park and the barracks.

AIN'T LOVE GRAND?

This is the season when the Golden Rule is practiced most, Love One Another. Many couples are seen walking around hand in hand. The sun shines brighter, the trees begin to bud, the flowers pap up, and the birds begin to chirp—all this makes a perfect setting for the thing called love.

BASEBALL

Eastern's baseballers, which pasted a 7-6-1 record, are again expected to field a fine team. They will, hawever, be without the services of senior lettermen Al Pipes, Don Bayer, Ken Stephens, Bob Brawn, Ronnie Pellegrinan, Jim Tucker, and Bob Manning. The "Maroans" will play such autstanding teams as the University of Kentucky, Indiana, Cincinnati and Xavier, along with the other strong O.V.C. teams which they meet each season. Our hats are off to a fine coach and a fine team. We are proud of yau!

Hockey

A young, inexperienced hockey team showed promising results for the season with one win and one defeat. The victory came at the expense of Morehead as the Maroanettes chalked up a 2-0 win. The loss was to Berea, 2-1 in a close one.

Aside from friendly competition with neighboring colleges, members of W.R.A. also attend clinics, sports days, and co-educational playdays which are held throughout the year.

BASKETBALL

During the basketball season, the W.R.A. gals came out on the short end with only one victory against four defeats. The lone win was over Morehead, 38-29. Losses were to the University of Louisville, 37-32; Berea, 55-30; Ursuline, 36-21; and the University of Kentucky, 35-26.

Leading scorers for the season were as follows:

Joan Mitchell	43
Pat Allison
Joy May
Pat Cleavenger

A very fine freshman team had a winning season registering wins over Ursuline, 17-16; University of Kentucky, 39-35; and Morehead, 41-14. Two defeats were dealt to the yearlings by the University of Louisville, 28-14; and Berea, 51-22.

Individual scoring ran as follows:

Judy Leete	62
Barb Bradshaw	57
Dorcas Ward	19
Toni Zarnas	14
Pegav Oswald	11

AND SO TO CLASS AGAIN

Readin', writin' 'rithmetic are still being taught in our classes on campus, plus many other things which go to make up a well-rounded student. Now's the time for work. In class we get to know our fellow students and the professors as well as learning subject material.

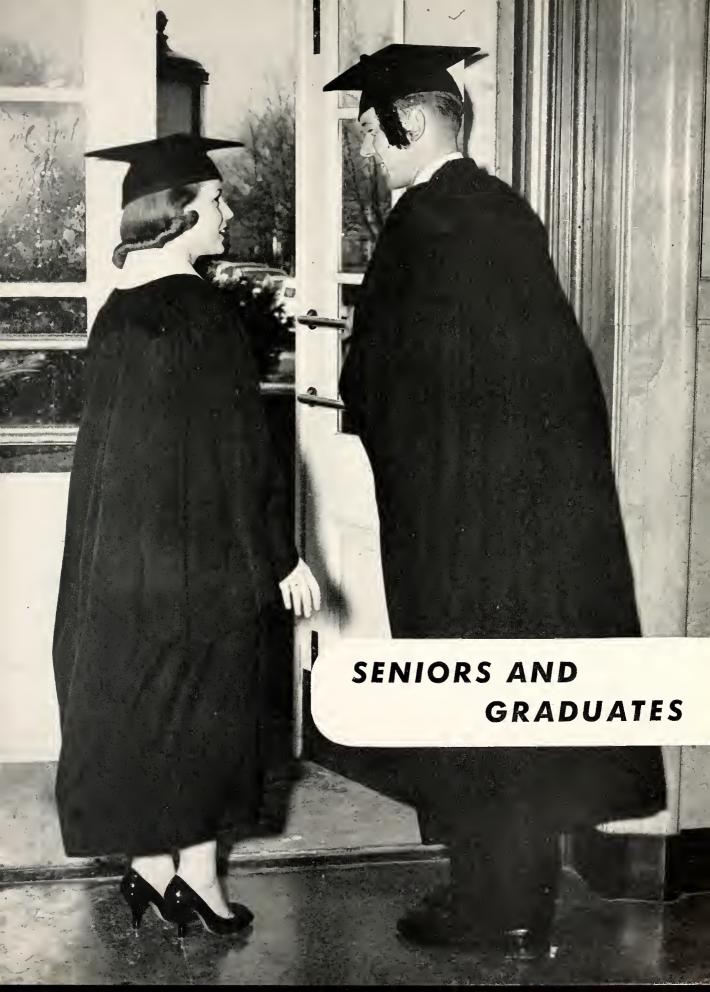

HONORS DAY

Going to class and studying has its advantages and as Honors Day arrives and we look back over our year of toil and labor we realize it was worth it. Every spring the Women's and Men's Honors Day is held. This is the day to honor the students who have a high scholastic standing, the club officers, and the outstanding students of each class.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

As seniors we are the finished product of Eastern's academic ability. We can look back wistfully now, at research papers, science experiments, art projects, accounting problems and all of those things with which Eastern has prepared us. We also realize our personal benefit from the experiences we have had working together on floats, movies, dances, and other of the various class projects. The class of 1957 will remember Eastern and each other by the many friendships, heartaches and jays which we have shared here.

Campus scenes take on new beauty in the newness of spring — familiar views catch and hold our attention, and imprint themselves on our minds — this is Eastern. We find ourselves more busy each day, with only a short time between now and graduation — yet somehow, there's always time to stop and talk — to sit in the sun — to just enjoy the moment for itself. This, too, is Eastern.

The most popular major, and the one with the largest enrollment, is grillology. There are many courses offered in this major. Some of these are ping pong, paol, and the favorite—cards. Here you can also get that day-old paper from home and hear the very latest gossip while having a cup of coffee or a bite of lunch.

GRILLOLOGY

BILLIE SUE ROBERTS

Queen Santa Barbara and her court.

The Military Ball is a great event of the year not only far the R.O.T.C. but alsa to many other students. The lovely queen, who is selected by the Senior R.O.T.C. Carps and her court, the formal receiving line and the crowded dance floor help to make the evening a great success and one to be remembered always

MILITARY BALL

SPRING

Spring! The most wonderful time of the year. A time for the club picnics, banquets and retreats. For it is at this time that God once again brings about the rebirth of nature. Often times during the winter we may lose sight of God's wonderful surroundings; however, at Eastern it is truly impossible to forget His work. As the trees begin their showing of the green, what could be more fitting than the Easter Sunrise service? At this time we con see God all around us.

JUNIOR-SENIOR PROM KING AND QUEEN

FRANCES MILAM - RONNIE SHERRARD 1956

AT LAST . . .

After four long years of hard work, the time has finally come — the day we have looked forward to for so long — graduotion. To many it doesn't seem as happy as they thought of leaving many friends and going into the world on our own somehow seems frightening.

All these thoughts are running through our minds, but as we line up to receive that long-awaited degree, we look back over four wonderful years and walk forward eagerly into the future.

Jolly juniors! We've spent a busy year, filled with many class projects — including a float for Homecoming, dances, and many fund-raising activities in preparation for the Junior-Senior Prom. Our officers have ably served the class for their second year, and our sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Richards, are always on hand to pep us up and share in all our activities.

With only one more year at Eastern, we're looking forward to all the octivities we will have together as a class. The post three years hove provided many shared experiences — we'll never forget our class or the many things we've done. Here's looking forward to next yeor!

Mascat of the Music Department, belaved by everyane who has had the pleasure of making his acquaintance — Mazart, or better still, "Mo", is entertainer-inchief at most of the Band performances, an unquestioned escart for any group af girls walking downtown, and a dependable noise-producer in case things get too dull around campus. Whether curled up on the porch af Burnam in the winter, or trotting around from "class to class" in the spring—Mo is alwoys a welcome and friendly sight.

Mrs. Yaunce, secretary in the office of the Music Department, is actually much more than her title implies. She's always there to answer the questions of the students about practice times, schedules, concerts, and recitals—and she usually has the answer to thot very cammon question, "Where's Mr. Van?" She manages to keep arder in the much-too-small office housing the administration of the Music Department—and surely she's looking farward to her future surraundings in the new Music Building.

One of the new and fascinating experiences awaiting a new student at Eastern, or ot least one who has an interest in science, is the many long haurs spent in labs. Sound dull and dreary? Ask anyane who has done it—they'll tell you differently! Whether working on a simple experiment, ar making a difficult extraction, laboratary classes give students a chance to get acquainted with the very basis of life—the care af all that exists.

As freshmen last year, ours was the largest class to have entered Eastern up to that time. Our first year away at college was a big one, including mony sock hops and the "White Rose Formol" which we sponsored. It was the first dance to be held in Sullivan and one that will never be forgotten by those who attended.

Being sophomores, we hove enjoyed several activities this year. Two receptions hove been given the class by advisors Mrs. Case and Mr. and Mrs. William Stocker. In February our class sponsored a sock hop which proved very successful. A barn dance was held in the spring for all Eastern students. Yes, we hove had fun these first two years, and we look forward eagerly to our junior year.

From class to class—from one side of the campus to the other, in a rush—our days are busily filled. In the easy, informal atmosphere of the classroom, we freshmen become better acquainted with some of the members of our large class—and what fun it is learning to type, make a dress, or fix a meal! It all adds up to one thing—college is wonderful, even though it does include classes.

FRESHMAN CLASS OFFICERS

After a wonderful welcoming to Eastern by the upper classmen during Freshman Week, the freshman class, sponsored by Dr. Smith Park, began to organize. They elected the following for class officers: Eddie Hatch, President; Marvin Cottrell, Vice-President; Deanie Dyre, Secretary; and Frank Pierce, Treasurer. Several committees were chosen to be responsible for various class activities throughout the year.

The first project of the freshman class was a float for Home-caming. Several parties and receptions have been given for the freshmen, and this has enabled our class to get to know one another better. We feel that we've gotten off to a good stort, and look forward to our next three years at Eastern eagerly.

Heaven's light forever shines, Earth's shadows fly;
The splendors of the firmament of time
May be eclipsed, but are extinguished not;
Like stars to their appointed height they climb.
And death is a low mist which cannot blot
The brightness it may veil.

-Percy Bysshe Shelley
